

An analysis of the Cuban Constitution on the exercise of Self-employment, incidents in the new re-launch of the economic model in the 21st Century

Alcides Francisco Antúnez Sánchez, Carlos Justo Bruzón Viltres y Sudis María Velázquez Borges<sup>1</sup>

Abstract:

This article analyses the exercise of self-employment from the optics of the Commercial Law in Cuba, checking the juridical regime and its effective application of new cost-reducing model of the century XXI in Cuba. Additionally, it explores the unionization, the policy of social security, the tax policy and credit policy.

The goal is to determine the present situation of the self-employment work, beginning by its legal definition and its insertion in the Cuban economic reality, and also is to explore the evolution of the concept from the beginning of the revolution to the present time in his historic juridical tract.

Exegetic juridical and historic logician methods were used. From these perspectives, it was conducted an analysis of the principles that become established in the legislation for the independent labor force, and a conceptual breakthrough was discovered in terms of the activities that can be held by individuals workers and entrepreneurs.

Key words: Commercial Law, Cuba, Self-employment.

---

<sup>1</sup> E-mail: aantunez@udg.co.cu; cbruzonv@udg.co.cu; svelazquezb@udg.co.cu